HELP WANTED—MALES.

Miscellaneous.

WANTED—AMALGAMATORS.—ONE WHO THOROUGHLY UNDERSTANDS THE AMALGAMATING PROCESS, and can furnish the best of reference as to character and ability, can hear of a permanent situation by addressing [illegible]

WANTED—A STRONG MAN, TO WHOM I WILL [illegible]

WANTED—SO DAYS THE DAY S FAMILY [illegible]

WANTED—FOR THE LIGHTS OF BUSINESS [illegible]

WANTED—A CLERK, TWO DRIVERS, ONE [illegible]

WANTED—AT THE SOUTHERN EXCHANGE [illegible]

WANTED—A GOOD COOK, WASHER AND [illegible]

WANTED—50 SOUTH JEFFERSON-ST. [illegible]

WANTED—A GOOD GIRL TO DO GENERAL [illegible]

WANTED—A GOOD, ACTIVE SECOND GIRL [illegible]

WANTED—A GOOD GIRL TO GO TO GERMANTOWN, Pa. [illegible]

WANTED—A WOMAN TO COOK, WASH AND [illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

TO RENT—WANTED—THOSE INTERESTED [illegible]

TO RENT—A GOOD SHOP, 16 FEET [illegible]

TO WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS. LOOKING [illegible]

FOR SALE—OR WILL EXCHANGE—FOR [illegible]

FOR SALE—SALOON, AND FIXTURES AND [illegible]

FOR SALE—THE FURNITURE AND A LONG [illegible]

FLOUR AND FEED STORE FOR SALE OR [illegible]

HARNESS AND SADDLERY BUSINESS FOR [illegible]

WANTED—ONE HUNDRED PERSONS OF [illegible]

WANTED—NEW AND SECOND HAND PIANOS [illegible]

WANTED—IMMEDIATELY, 50 MEN TO [illegible]

WANTED—A SALESMAN WITH AN ESTAB [illegible]

WANTED—SALESMEN FOR CITY AND COUN [illegible]

WANTED—A FIRST-CLASS BOOKKEEPER [illegible]

WANTED—STENCIL CUTTERS TO SEND FOR [illegible]

WANTED—TO EXCHANGE—STOCK OF GOOD [illegible]

WANTED—A GOOD, RELIABLE AND EFFI [illegible]

WANTED—A GENTS WANTED—SEE A DAY TO MAKE [illegible]

AGENTS WANTED.

A GENTS WANTED—SEE A DAY TO MAKE [illegible]

A GENTS WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE— [illegible]

BUSINESS CHANCES.

A HALF INTEREST, OR THE WHOLE IF DESIRED, in a manufacturing business that is [illegible]

A PROFITABLE CLOTHING AGENCY will be offered to the [illegible]

A PERFECTLY GOOD SMART GIRL, 16 [illegible]

A PERFECTLY GOOD SMART GIRL, 16 [illegible]

A BILLIARD AND SALOON ROOM, well [illegible]

BILLIARDS—BILLIARDS.—GOOD OPENING [illegible]

CLOTHING STORE FOR SALE.—ONE OF THE [illegible]

WANTED—TO SELL OUR NEW PATENT [illegible]

WANTED—A PARTNER, WITH A CAPITAL [illegible]

WANTED—A PARTNER, WITH A CAPITAL [illegible]

WANTED—A PARTNER, WITH A CAPITAL

THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1858.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Conversation "Overcome" by the New England Magic.

Women and Wine the Drinks of Nectar and Ambrosia.

An Assembly.

INDIAN TREATY SYSTEM.

THE STATE OF THE UNION.

Speech of General Payne on the Supporting Evidence of the Treaty.

DESTRUCTION OF CHICAGO BY FIRE.

THE OUTER DOOR OF HOUSES

THE NATIONAL TREASURY.

NEW YORK AND WESTERN

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

THE COURTS OF CHICAGO.

THE OUTER DOOR OF HOUSES IN ENGLAND.

BOURBON ALBUTT.

A Characteristic "Conversation" by the New England Sage.

Woman, and What He Thinks of Her and Her Sphere.

An Anecdote.

Brigham Aloud, the Nez Perced sage, the Mormon philosopher, and the latest but wisest of the Presidential aspirants now in the field, arrived in this city last evening from the West, and registered at the Sherman House as follows:

Albutt, Bourbon, Utah.

He is not one of the fortunate few who, at the first look, are recognized by any kind of a description. His is not one of the large assemblage of distinguished men who, during the last week or two, have registered themselves at the hotels, and began to look for a few days as if they were the only people in the world. He is a few inches above the average height, and is not to be suspected of constituting a discovery of himself. He is not to be suspected of constituting a description of himself. He is not to be suspected of constituting a description of himself in any respect whatever. He is not the author of the following remarkable report of what was said and done at a certain social party:

A cold night. One must sit in the presence of the open fire-place. Ice-crystals are thicker than the ceiling-lathed, genial old heart of summer, the outdoor world—the round-me of the persons in a circle of warmth. Some of the persons in the circle are young, others are old. Some are of the female sex, others are of the male. Some are married, others are single. Some are talking, others are listening. Some are thinking of each other, how striking the resemblance is between Miss Jones and Miss Smith; how much the former has improved in appearance since her marriage to Mr. Brown; how much the latter has fallen off since her marriage to Mr. Robinson, and so on through the whole category of the possible and impossible.

The people here to-day, what an enormous bore. Everybody is talking about everybody else. Not a single person in the room has a thought of his own. Not a single person has a thought of anybody else's. Not a single person has a thought of anything. Not a single person has a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought of a thought. Not a single person has a thought of

TEMPERANCE.

Immense Mass Meeting in Farwell Hall Last Evening.

Inauguration of the Movement Against Sunday Liquor-Selling.

The Demoralizing Influence of the Saloons Upon Our People.

Eloquent Addresses by Dr. Davis, and Rev. Dr. Ryder, Fowler, Burns, and Hatfield.

Adoption of Stirring Resolutions.

Last evening a grand temperance mass meeting was held in Farwell Hall, which was crowded to its utmost capacity.

At 8 o'clock the meeting was called to order, and it was announced that the Sunday Closing Convention was called on Dr. N. S. Davis to preside, and he had consented. [Applause.]

Dr. Davis responded to the Rev. Dr. Boyles in a few remarks, which was done.

The following officers were then nominated and elected:

PRESIDENT.

Dr. Nathan S. Davis, Gardner City Temperance Union, Rev. Dr. Ryder, Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. Dr. Fowler, Baptist Church, Rev. Dr. Burns, Presbyterian Church, Rev. Dr. Hatfield, Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. G. Knyman, Judge Lawrence, Judge Wilson, Judge Dickey, Judge Scott, Judge Moran, Judge Rogers, Judge Lockwood, Judge Wallace, Judge Williams, Judge Booth, Judge Lowell, Judge Gary, Judge Blodgett, Judge Drummond, Judge Hoyne, Judge Van Buren, Judge Collins, Judge Hollister, Judge Wilkinson, Judge Hoyt, Judge Hanecy, Judge Hanchett, Judge Hawley